

Interview with Christian

How long have you been coaching?

I have worked in personal development for six years, offering a wide range of services like counseling, coaching, education, and speaking. As a productivity coach, I utilize my expertise to help high-achievers reach their full potential.

What kind of clients do you work with?

Professionals or leaders who have hit a wall in their productivity come to me to get things done. I go beyond providing a list of do's and don'ts on time-management. Together we craft the right mindset and habits while I provide accountability for your success.

How are you different from other coaches?

I am an ordained minister and a certified life coach, collaborating with people from all walks of life. While others impatiently assume what your needs are, I act as a surgeon of the soul. The best philosophies of success and productivity are tailored to the unique human being in front of me.

Who do you work best with and what is expected of me?

High achievers ready to maximize their time, energy, and focus are the only ones I coach. Though I offer support and grace, my job is to push you to get things done while enjoying life. I don't judge, but I also don't coddle.

Who does this program NOT work for?

I only accept 4 new clients each month, so I am selective about who I coach. My programs are not suitable for quick fixers, chronic skeptics, or those who are not ready to make a financial commitment. If any of these sound like you, you wouldn't find much value in my coaching.

What exactly is your system and what does it include?

You will take a Productivity Assessment to help me customize a program for your needs. Each program rests on three pillars:

- Time Management
- Energy Management
- Focus Development

Time-management problems are often rooted in misuse of your energy or focus. My program creates a roadmap for developing all three. You'll attain your goals in your personal life, career, and family at an incredible pace while experiencing overall fulfillment.

Does this really work?

My track record speaks for itself thanks to the phenomenal clients I've coached already:

"Mr. Garcia is an Awesome Coach! Great listening and communication skills, with a positive outlook on life." ~ Demaulie

"Christian was very helpful to me in focusing on what I want to achieve and helping me to identify specific actionable steps." ~ Ray

"Speaking with Christian is easy and comfortable. He makes you feel at ease so that you are able to open up entirely. Christian does a wonderful job of getting you to dig deep into setting your action steps and really validates where you are at and the goals you are setting." ~ Amber

What results can I expect?

- Have time for the things most important to you.
- Sleep with a mind free from unchecked obligations.
- Find misplaced notes, documents, and resources with lightning speed.
- Create precious moments with your friends and family.
- Make work meaningful and enjoyable.

How quickly can I expect results?

The moment you say, "YES" begins your results journey to high-level productivity.

How can I guarantee myself success?

There is a reason why the strategies so many people try end up failing. They lacked the right support, the right system, or the right accountability. My program gives you all three.

Is it worth the investment?

Add up the amount of time and money you've spent on books, workshops, or networking to amp up your game. How much would it be? If things don't change, how much time will you spend in the coming years searching for a solution? For most, the answer to both questions is a lot!

Now ask yourself, "How much is it worth doubling the progress I experience in my life on a daily basis?" What you will learn with me will last you far beyond a coaching program. Our work together yields dividends for years.

How do I get started?

Being a part of your success journey is a treasured experience. Should you make this decision, here's how to get started:

- Set up a one-on-one with me.
- Take the Productivity Assessment.
- Receive a "Welcome Email" that outlines your program and includes a Coaching Program Agreement (you'll sign this agreement before our first session).
- Enjoy a special welcome gift that will enhance your experience.

OK, I'm ready to do this for myself, but I have a couple of additional questions. Can we address them in our conversation?

Yes! Bring all your questions to your one-on-one consultation. I'll answer them while giving you a firsthand experience of having a powerful coach in your corner.
